From cookies and pastas,

Salad with salsas,

Sugar coated hearts

To apple tarts;

We had it all,

in a culinary ball!

What is better than exploring your true calling? Be it doctoring, engineering, or COOKING, if you know your passion, you begin to savor life!

In an endeavor to hunt budding chefs, Kothari International School organized a competition, 'IIHM Junior Chef 2020', in which students of Grades 6 and 7 showcased their cookery talent and culinary skills. Seeing the little hands preparing the dishes, setting up the platters, laying out sumptuous displays and serving with love in hope of appreciation was a treat itself. The judges and the organizers marveled at the participants' preparedness and their fervor to present the platters. They also relished their snacks and inspired the participants with their valuable feedback. To further the interest of the participants, ten of them will shortly be chosen to visit and experience the IIHM kitchen, hence developing and mastering their talent of cooking.
